Green Eggs and Ham

By Dr. Seuss

ABOUT THE STORY...

Green Eggs and Ham is about Sam-I-Am's attempt to convince the narrator to try green eggs and ham. He spends most of the book offering the unnamed narrator different locations and dining partners to try the delicacy. In the end, the narrator relents and eats the green eggs and ham and ends up loving the food.

CHARACTERS

Sam I Am

SAM I AM

- His fur is white. Oh yeah, and he has fur.
- He wears a bright yellow outfit that looks like it was purchased in Bedrock.
- He has a red hat, a la Seven Dwarves.
- He loves riding stuff (animals, cars, trains, you name it) and is down for any kind of fun or adventure.

How does he afford this life of extravagance and adventure? Well, in his spare time, he's a waiter. The most persistent, annoying waiter ever. There is only one thing on his menu and you aren't allowed to leave the restaurant until you "Eat them! Eat them!"

THE BIG GUY

The big guy is a bigger, yellower, nakeder version of Sam. A tall, lumpy, black hat is fashion statement enough for this Grinchy grump, the diner to Sam's waiter. When he doesn't like what's on the menu, he leaves the restaurant, only to have Sam bring the restaurant to him-whether he wants it or not.

THEMES

- Friendship
- Exploration

FRIENDSHIP

- Are Sam and the big guy friends?

Yes, sir. They go on adventures together and share their food. If that's not friendship, I don't know what is.

- Why doesn't the big guy want to eat the green eggs and ham?

Maybe he's never seen green eggs and ham before. Would you want to eat purple macaroni and cheese?

- What kind of creature is Sam?

EXPLORATION

"Would you? Could you? In a car? Eat them!
Eat them! Here they are." (LINES 50-53)

When Sam kidnaps the big guy in his car, things get pretty intense. See, the big guy doesn't want to explore anything; he just wants to chill at home reading his papers. Like you do. But sometimes life forces you to explore new things.

Think About It

1. Is it fair of Sam-I-Am to keep pestering the narrator to try green eggs and ham? Should he have left him alone after the first time the narrator said he does not like green eggs and ham?
  2. At the end of the book, the narrator declares he likes green eggs and ham after trying them. Is it okay to change your mind about something?
