

The story of Ferdinand

By Munro Leaf

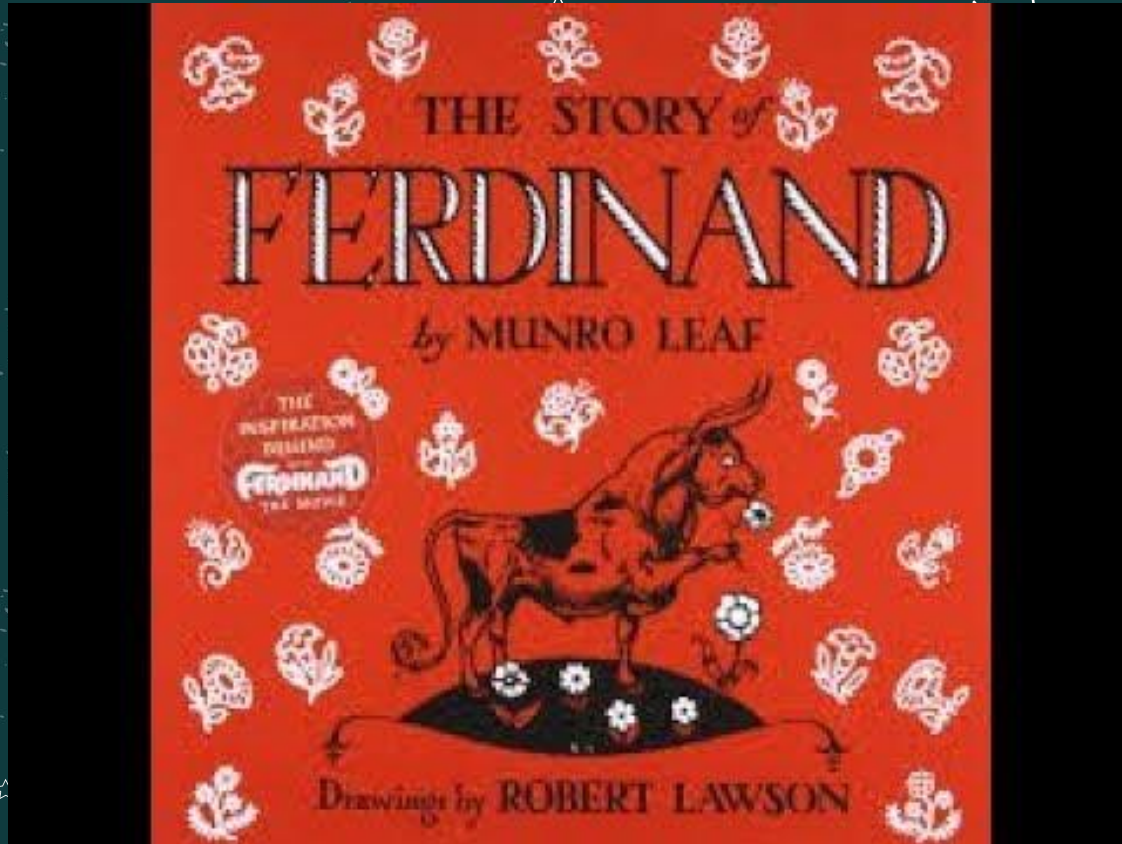

Summary of this story

Ferdinand was a strong bull living in Spain. Unlike other bulls, Ferdinand would spend his free time sitting under cork tree and smelling flowers. Once, five men came to the pasture and was going to pick up a bull for bullfight. Ferdinand was bit by a bumblebee, and ran around. As a result, Ferdinand was taken away for the bullfight. However, as Ferdinand moved into the ring, he sat down and smelled the flower on ladies' head. Whatever the men had done to him, Ferdinand refused to fight and continued to live the way he wanted.

☆
 $\sqrt{123}$

STUDY HARD!

☆
+ x ÷

$\sqrt{123}$

THANKS!

CREDITS: This presentation template was created by Slidesgo, including icons by Flaticon, and infographics & images by Freepik.

Please keep this slide for attribution.

+ × ÷